ROCK YOUR WORLD: ONLINE CURRICULUM FOR SOCIAL ACTION

This grant-funded program features Rock Your World, an innovative, project-based curriculum that engages middle and high school students in real-world issues and the use of digital media to investigate, explore and take action on causes of importance to them. Designed with multiple entry-points and fully aligned with Common Core State Standards, Rock Your World offers more than fifty flexible, field-tested lesson plans and activities that provide for rigorous and differentiated instruction for all students. This innovative program focuses on English literacy, Social Studies, Digital Literacy, and Civics.

Set in the inspirational learning environment of the Museum of Tolerance, educators will leave the two--day Institute with a student--ready unit of study designed to:

- apply standards-based academics to real-world issues
- strengthen inquiry, social analysis, high-level thinking and problem-solving skills
- promote an understanding of human rights and global awareness
- inspire youth's voice and engage them in civic literacy through relevant participation
- utilize digital media for meaningful communication
